THE CLIENT IS AT THE CENTER OF EVERYTHING WE DO

Risk Consulting

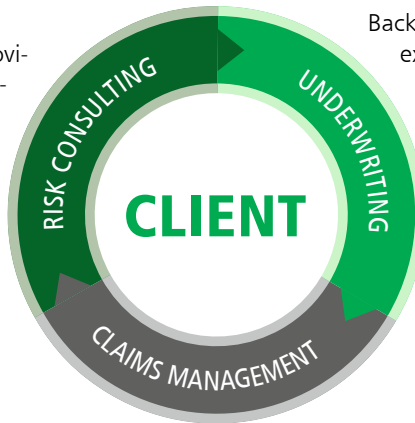

With over 170 expert risk engineers located in 21 countries, HDI Risk Consulting (HRC) can offer a truly local service to global customers across a broad range of exposures. The principal objective of HRC is to help our clients identify risks and offer practical, cost effective loss prevention measures to reduce both the frequency and severity of resultant property damage and associated business interruption.

Our stated aim is to provide high quality risk engineering services to our industrial clients. In a close partnership, we develop individual solutions based on internationally accepted standards as well as local requirements.

Underwriting

Through worldwide branch offices, subsidiaries, peer companies, and joint ventures, we are positioned to offer comprehensive insurance solutions for companies within the United States as well as abroad. The strength of our services is based on local knowledge as well as an understanding of the operational and business risks facing our clients.

Backed by over 110 years of experience and endowed with high levels of authority, our underwriters deliver timely and informed support as well as effective decision making. We value trust and believe that long-term relationships can only be achieved in working side-by-side with our clients.

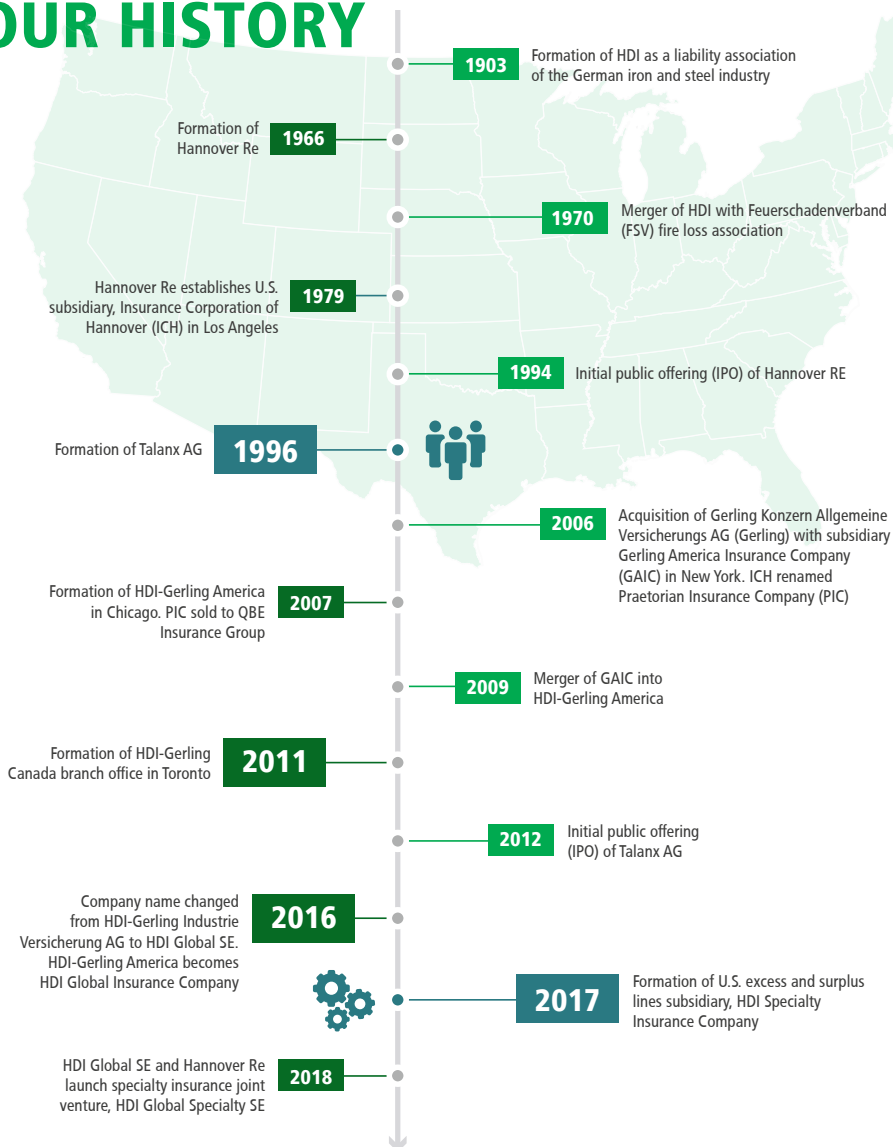

Claims Management

Our multi-disciplined and highly experienced claims team has vast experience resolving even the most complex claims. Our industry expertise and client knowledge enable us to partner with our customers to resolve matters effectively and efficiently. We operate with sensitivity to our client's business circumstances and can be depended on to provide the highest level of claims handling service. Our claims professionals fully understand that the claims process is the proof of the product purchased by the client and each claim is approached with the aim to reach a fair and timely resolution.

OUR HISTORY

Today's insurance solutions for the world of tomorrow

The world is changing ever faster, and as markets, technologies and our partner's work conditions change, we are committed to offering customized solutions that meet their present and future needs.
