

Shippabo

A Modern Supply Chain Network System

About Shippabo

Built by Shippers.

Shippabo is a cloud-based supply chain management platform built by a team of shippers and supported by supply chain logistics experts.

Through Shippabo, businesses can oversee their supply chain from anywhere, at any time, and on their terms.

Supported by supply chain logistics experts.

We're a top shipping company of shippers, logistics consultants, and technologists who came together to create the change we always wanted to see in the industry.

Since Shippabo was founded in 2015, we've built a technology platform based on our own lived experience.

Shippabo makes shipping faster, more affordable, and more transparent — so companies can ship on their terms.

Driven by technology.

To empower everyone along the supply chain by bringing greater transparency, collaboration, and actionable data to the world of shipping and logistics.

Introduction

A Powerful Proposition

Leading companies of the future will be operating a far more advanced and high performing supply chain than companies today. These companies will not only utilize technology in an outdated industry but also leverage actionable data to make better business decisions.

They will eliminate manual processes, increase operation efficiency, increase visibility, and gain speed to market by empowering their team through a data-driven supply chain network.

Visibility

Unlike traditional logistic software and freight providers that are fragmented, Shippabo is an end-to-end integrated global supply chain platform that allows businesses to collaborate, plan, and manage their inventory more efficiently by pre-booking shipments on specific schedules and modes.

Clients use Shippabo to first have visibility into schedules and capacity 30-45 days in advance, then use Shippabo to have complete visibility in container details, documents and status.

Most importantly, our clients are then able to leverage the data and documents Shippabo collects from their own business, versus the community, to empower business decisions.

Freight Services

Full Container Load (FCL)

Shippabo can help you guarantee FCL for your large and bulky products and help you maximize your container utilization to ensure your products arrive on time and intact.

We have direct contracts with the leading carriers to give you maximum flexibility with the carriers that you trust, with predictive capacity and fixed rates.

Loose Container Load (LCL)

With production schedules and quantities in flux, companies can take advantage of Shippabo's Loose Container Load services with the added convenience of consolidating your shipments from multiple factories into one container.

Shippabo's experts are available to help create an efficient and flexible supply chain solution, optimized for your demand.

Air Freight Services

Shippabo offers air freight as a stand-alone service or as just part of your holistic supply chain. Our experts work with you to ensure you have the right options to stay on time and on budget.

Our solutions help you manage unpredictable demand with the most flexibility and lowest cost. Shippabo Air Freight Services support both Expedited Services and Deferred Services for maximum flexibility.
