

Project Firstline is a national collaborative led by the CDC to provide infection control training and education to frontline health care workers and public health personnel.

INFECTION PREVENTION & CONTROL TRAINING

For Nurses. By Nurses.

Find Out More at www.ANAProjectFirstline.org

WHAT IS ANA PROJECT FIRSTLINE?

Nurses are the nation's first line of defense against infectious diseases. That's why ANA has proudly partnered with the CDC to present Project Firstline, an interactive series of free online tools that give you the training and information you need about infection prevention and control (IPC). Comprehensive education includes best practices and evidence-based strategies to improve outcomes. Together, we can stop the spread.

TOPICS INCLUDE: Introduction to Infection Control and Virus Basics, Injection Safety, PPE Basics, Respirator Basics, Nursing Home Infection Preventionist Training, Environmental Cleaning and Disinfection Basics, Ventilation, Source Control, and Hand Hygiene, How COVID-19 Spreads, AND MORE!

FREE CNE TRAINING

Earn FREE CNE credit!
Choose from our comprehensive online curriculum to expand your knowledge of IPC guidelines and best practices.

ON-THE-GO RESOURCES

ANA Project Firstline has curated nurse-focused materials applicable to everyday practice from the world's most trusted and reliable sources.

PROJECT ECHO

Project ECHO™ is a FREE interactive tele-mentoring series connecting IPC subject matter experts and interdisciplinary specialists with nurses through virtual scenario-based learning.