

The decision-making platform for preconstruction teams

Join streamlines workflows for preparing bids and presenting project information. Transform rigid, siloed spreadsheets and data into clear, easy-to-understand visualizations and presentations automatically so owners and architects can make decisions more efficiently and with greater confidence.

Present complex data confidently

- Spend less time preparing bids with dynamic reports created in seconds
- Explore and present options and alternatives clearly
- Make decisions more efficiently and confidently

Improve collaboration & confidence

- Eliminate disjointed email threads, confusing spreadsheets, and siloed project info
- Get a real-time pulse on project health
- Allow stakeholders to see and understand decisions in one central place

Reduce project risk

- Reduce confusion and errors from sharing complex spreadsheets
- Save time tracking and sharing complex changes
- Orient everyone around the same real-time data

Integrate your tools and reduce the noise.

Orient everyone around the same actionable information, real-time data, and decision history - all in one place.
